

ANOTHER CONFESSION.

Woodruff, the Horse Thief, Is the Boss Liar.

HE CAN TELL A NEW ONE EVERY DAY

Alexander Sullivan Now Implicated Deeply by Him—David's Good Opinion of Sullivan.

CHICAGO, June 16.—All previous confessions of Woodruff, the horse thief, who has been indicted for complicity in the Cronin murder, were exposed as lies. An entirely new story from him is published in an extra edition of the Times. He contended and discredited every other statement here before attributed to him, and now appears in the role of an ex-convict of the Canadian militia, claiming that he was trusted by Cronin's alleged murderer because he furnished Fenian supplies.

With the intention of going to the county hospital in order to get a drink, Woodruff, who had been in the county jail for some time, was taken up by a man in a suit, who told him that he was a Fenian, and that he was a friend of Cronin's. Woodruff, who was a Fenian, and who was a friend of Cronin's, was taken up by the man in the suit, who told him that he was a Fenian, and that he was a friend of Cronin's.

Pleasure boats for rent, at Stark street.

Go to H. Ginsheimer, No. 214 First street at the best places and organs. He carries only the standard makes of organs—namely, Highway & and other plans, Burdett and Story & Child organs, and best tone quality. Every instrument is one of the things that is bought but once a lifetime that the man, woman or child will be pleased for his own sake. This is particularly pleasing to the piano. When you are buying instrument he asks to give them. This is no less than the machine's lucky brother, sold and
